Dear Early Childhood Education Center Families,

This message is to let you know that an ambulance was called to our campus today after a child needed medical assistance after becoming ill. Due to federal privacy laws, we are not allowed to disclose more information; however, the ambulance did transport the child, and we are expecting them to make a full recovery.

Some children may come home today and want to talk about the ambulance or about what their classmate experienced. Just like teachers do in classrooms, we encourage families to talk with children about emergency responders, the importance of taking care of our bodies, and what to do if we need medical assistance. Our health team recommends parents check out this resource from Nemours KidsHealth for more information: <https://kidshealth.org/en/kids/stay-healthy/>.

Thank you,
